OTAKON 2007 WITH A PURPLE SKY

English Print Japanese Rock Magazine to Host Industry Panel

Music and animation meet on the horizon at Otakon 2007, the East coast's largest Japanese animation and cultural convention. Purple SKY magazine will host its first industry panel on Friday, July 20th in Panel 2 (rooms 324-326) at the Baltimore Convention Center from 1-2pm EST.

Join us for a presentation with boo and crank, the hosts of purple SKY no WILD ZERO radio, as they discuss the music industry, the American market, the magazine and more.

Nationally distributed at Barnes & Noble, Borders Books and Hot Topic, purple SKY is the U.S. leader in print media focused on Japanese rock music. With brash and honest reviews, stunning photos and cutting edge design, purple SKY reaches for a new vantage point from which readers can view the world of Japanese rock music and culture.
